PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Project Manager with degrees in pharmacy and health informatics, delivering healthcare projects and data-driven outcomes in the Saudi health sector. Four years across trial sites, research centres, and national health programs bring direct exposure to how clinical operations differ between Saudi healthcare providers — from academic medical centres to regional MOH facilities — and to the full data lifecycle behind them: capture at the point of care, governance, documentation, processing, and outcome reporting. That end-to-end view is the basis for generating insights and defensible evidence.
